Our Growing Season

A time of renewal at San José Clinic
Juan and Sandra Beltran and their children, Carlos, Amy and Nohemi receive healthcare services from San José Clinic. Pictured on front cover are Sandra, Carlos and Amy.
For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven.

— Ecclesiastes 3:1

Eighty-five years ago was a time of beginnings.
Today is a time of rebirth.
Rooted in our community, nourished by the faithful, strengthened by our God, it is time for us to gather together. To dance, and laugh, and heal and build.

To Our Community,

We are overwhelmed…with joy. For 85 years, God has answered the prayers of His people through the work of San José Clinic, and He continues to answer those prayers in the most magnificent way.

In 2006, our five-year strategic plan detailed five goals, including: “In 2011, San José Clinic is operating one location housed in a new facility…a highly visible, multi-level building providing health care services in partnership with others.”

God had another plan: build it faster.

Thanks to the combined efforts of CHRISTUS Health, the CHRISTUS Foundation for HealthCare, and the Congregation of the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word, our quiet prayer has become an historic opportunity to serve—by collaborating to create a 55,000-square-foot health complex in downtown Houston by 2010.

We have already begun work to ensure that clinically, financially and operationally San José Clinic is prepared to provide primary, specialty and dental care to more people every year in a more dignified setting.

Please know that your support has never been more critical, and its impact will never be more visible, both in the lives of our ever-increasing family of patients, and in the very real building that is already underway.

It’s our growing season. Join us.

John F. Brothers
Chair, Board of Directors

Stacie J. Cokinos, CFRE
Executive Director
December 2006 was the low point. After five years of chronic pain, Ted found himself alone in the garage, hiding from company. He was ashamed of his appearance and incapacitated by debilitating dental infections.

In the months that followed, San José Clinic provided dental care to help heal his infection and restore his smile. Alongside his health, Ted found confidence, his sense of self-worth and his sense of humor. His wife found the man she fell in love with. And their son found the spirited dad he’d seen only in glimpses.

That’s the funny thing about a smile. Once you have it, you find reason to use it. And man, is it contagious.
The first hour of the first day of a new life
Texas claims the highest uninsured rate in the United States—27%. Texas’ largest county, Harris, fares worse—31.4%, or 1.1 million people in Houston alone. And in the Houston metro, only one clinic is committed to serving the disenfranchised among these numbers—San José Clinic.

Facing Tremendous Need

Making a difference
The numbers are overwhelming, and it’s easy to question whether a single clinic can make a measurable impact. At what point do you really make a difference? 5,000 patients? 500 patients? Try one.

When you give the gift of health, you restore more than a single person. You begin to heal families. You begin to heal the community.

Consider Ted Ready. By curing his infections, the Clinic made it possible for Ted to return to work and provide a better life for his wife and child. Now consider that Ted is only one of 4,750 patients served by San José Clinic last year.
Imagine the collective impact of good health as it touches each patient’s family, friends and neighborhood.

It’s staggering, and it’s just the beginning.

By 2010, San José Clinic will gear up to serve more patients. That’s more people who will no longer rely on emergency rooms for basic health care. People who are empowered to practice preventative care. People who actively partner with physicians to reduce avoidable health crises and mitigate the debilitating effects of chronic conditions.

A Model of Success

Since 1922, San José Clinic has operated a service model rooted in the community. The Clinic relies on volunteer doctors, a network of community partners and the generosity of pharmaceutical companies. Patients pay sliding scale fees that include their examinations, lab services and all prescribed medications. Last year alone, the Clinic logged 27,157 dental, primary and specialty care visits and distributed nearly $1 million in pharmaceuticals. Today, San José Clinic is the oldest charity clinic still in operation in the nation.
Dr. Hilda Tawil Vollero

Hero to thousands
When retired pediatric neurologist Dr. Hilda Tawil Vollero first volunteered at San José Clinic five years ago, she was, frankly, intimidated. As a specialist, it had been some time since she was involved in the day-to-day of performing physicals and routine diagnoses. She wondered what she was doing, and who on earth she was to think she could do this.

And now, after one year as the volunteer Medical Director for the Clinic, she has the same conversation with other would-be volunteers. “You know how to do this,” she recently reassured a cardiovascular surgeon. “Who is better than you to do a physical—you know so much!”

It’s simple. Our service offerings depend on the experience of our volunteer doctors. Family medicine, internal medicine, endocrinology, rheumatology—no matter your specialty or experience, we need you. Once a week or once a month, be a hero. Call (713) 228-9413.
People brought anybody with an ailment, whether mental, emotional, or physical. Jesus healed them, one and all.
More and more people came, the momentum gathering.

—From Matthew 4:24

How to Get Involved

Are you a carpenter, a magician or a physician? We welcome you.

For more information about donating items from our wish list, (713) 490-2603 or contact suemurchinson@sanjoseclinic.org. Financial contributions can be forwarded to San José Clinic, 301 Hamilton Street; Houston, Texas 77002. Or give online at www.sanjoseclinic.org.
In February 2006, San José Clinic’s Board of Directors and management team gathered the hopes and dreams of the Clinic into a strategic, actionable plan. In October 2006, the Board of Directors of the CHRISTUS Foundation for HealthCare formed a Mission Fulfillment Committee dedicated to extending the healing ministry of Jesus Christ. And just two months later, these two organizations found the answer to their prayers—in each other.

The Foundation will raise funds, build and maintain a new, multi-level health complex in Midtown Houston. San José Clinic will move in and pay rent—$1 a year.

Upon hearing the news, “Pinch me, is this possibly true?” was followed quickly by “of course God would be this generous” in the spinning mind of Stacie Cokinos, the Clinic’s Executive Director. Les Cave, President of the Foundation, speaks frankly. “We can do so much more together.”
San José Clinic is Houston’s only full-time medical and dental clinic dedicated exclusively to serving uninsured adults and children.

No question, 2010 will be tremendously exciting. But every day until then is equally important. Each is an opportunity to answer our calling—to provide quality healthcare and education to the uninsured in an environment which respects the dignity of each person. To extend the healing ministry of Jesus Christ. And to quietly change lives.

It’s truly a time of renewal at San José Clinic. To find out more, please visit www.sanjoseclinic.org.

Together, let’s heal.
Let’s build.

Breaking down barriers to health care, reaching out with mobile vans and working together to strengthen our medical, dental and spiritual services and volunteer network. Plans are quickly becoming a beautiful reality.

Building the Future

San José Clinic is Houston’s only full-time medical and dental clinic dedicated exclusively to serving uninsured adults and children.

Today, a recently-cleared lot at the corner of Fannin and McGowen in Midtown Houston awaits construction of the Clinic’s new home. One block east of the MetroRail and near several bus routes, the complex will offer easy access to patients and volunteers traveling via public and private transportation and doctors traveling from the Texas Medical Center.
In 2006, San José Clinic’s most valuable volunteers, Dr. Efrain Garcia and Dr. Hilda Vollero, each donated time valued at more than $20,000. They join hundreds of volunteers and donors who together provided more than $4,731,000 in financial and in-kind donations. We are humbled and awed—again.

San José Clinic
Diagnosed with Type 2 diabetes at 14, Jenny Orsak understands how complicated, and tenuous, good health can be. So does San José Clinic.

By accompanying clinical exams with necessary lab work, medications, specialists’ insights and patient education, we implement strategies for long-term health.

Jenny’s perspective? “I don’t feel like I’m getting help because I’m poor. I’m getting help because I need it.” That’s the Golden Rule in action. Amplified in the community.
